

130 MET DEATH IN THE PACIFIC

Steamer Colima Sinks with Nearly All on Board.

FOURTEEN PASSENGERS AND FIVE OF CREW ESCAPE.

They Reached the Mexican Coast in Small Boats, But All the Others
Sank—Boat Carried a Valuable Load of Merchandise in Addition to the Human Freight.

San Francisco, May 29.—Fourteen of the passengers and five of the crew of the lost steamer, Colima, reached the Mexican coast this morning, and the rest of one hundred and thirty people composing the passengers and crew are lost. B. S. Schwerin, superintendent of the Pacific Mail company, late last night received word that the Colima had been wrecked. The Colima carried about forty first cabin passengers and the same number in the crew. It is not yet known how the wreck occurred.

The Colima was commanded by Capt. J. P. Taylor and was an iron vessel of 2,306 tons. She was built in 1873 by Roach & Sons, of Philadelphia, and was owned by the Pacific Mail company.

Storekeeper Richardson, of the company, was the one who sent the first news about the disaster. It was he who sent the message to his father-in-law in this city that he had been saved. The wreck occurred between Manzanilla and Acapulco.

The Colima carried a very heavy cargo of general merchandise, and in addition to the cabin passengers, who numbered between thirty-five and fifty, carried a number of steerage passengers. There were probably on the vessel all told nearly two hundred people.

The ship was wrecked May 27. A ship's boat containing five of the crew and fourteen of the passengers arrived at Manzanilla.

Assistant Superintendent Avery of the Pacific Mail stated that the Colima carried 192 people and only nineteen were saved. There were forty cabin passengers, thirty-seven steerage, forty-three Chinese and the crew numbered seventy-two. Most of the cabin passengers were bound through to New York.

Cadiz, May 29.—The French steamer Dom Pedro, bound for Carrillo, Spain, been wrecked off Cape Corrubedo. Over one hundred of those on board were drowned. The disaster was caused by the bursting of a boiler.

The Dom Pedro was a 3,000-ton steamer, and was engaged in running between Havre and the Argentine Republic, calling at Bordeaux, France. She carried freight and passengers. The latter were mostly emigrants bound for the Argentine Republic or other points of South America. She left Havre May 20 last with a crew of forty-nine all told and with eighty passengers.

At Carrillo the steamer was to have embarked 200 additional passengers, but on her way to that port she ran on the rock at 6:40 p. m. off Cape Corrubedo. Immediately following the explosion of her boilers the vessel foundered. Only the captain of the Dom Pedro and twenty-nine of the crew were saved. All the passengers were either killed by the explosion or drowned when the vessel went down.

WILL LIVE IN IRELAND.

Crocker Intends to Lease a County Limerick Estate.

London, May 29.—Richard Crocker will next week visit Ireland to enter negotiations which he has entered upon for the lease of an estate in County Limerick. It is his purpose to establish one of the largest racing studs in Ireland. Mr. Crocker was asked whether this meant that he intended to settle here and he replied:

"I certainly do not mean to give up my American citizenship and I shall be found in New York in time to vote at every election. No matter how busy I may be with racing I shall gladly manage to spare three months in the fall of 1896 to work for such a man as William C. Whitney if he is nominated as the democratic candidate for the presidency. Senator Gorman would make another candidate for whom I would take off my coat to work. Tammany's candidate will be elected in New York this year and I shall be on hand."

Another Link in the British Empire.

London, May 29.—Lord Rosebery has introduced a bill in the house of lords to authorize any judge who has been a member of the supreme court of Canada, or of any one of the Australian colonies, to become a member of the judicial committee of the privy council. The salaries of such judges under the bill are to be paid by the colonies. The Times says the bill is intended to add another link in the golden chain of the empire.

Think It Is China's Trick.

London, May 29.—The Daily News correspondent at Berlin telegraphs that paper that there is a belief in some quarters that the Formosan republic is a Chinese maneuver, backed by France and Russia, to trick Japan out of the fruits of her victory. It is feared that it will reopen the war.

Police and Tramps Collide.

Fort Wayne, Ind., May 29.—A gang of thieves and tramps resisted arrest with revolvers at the east yards of the Pittsburg, Fort Wayne and Chicago road yesterday. Horatio S. Harrod, chief deputy sheriff, was shot through the left side. Harrod fired a bullet into the stomach of William Walrath, also a thief, inflicting a fatal wound. Harrod's case is extremely critical. The men had a complete outfit of burglar's tools with them.

FOR "SOUND" MONEY.

Gold Men Open Their Campaign at Philadelphia.

Philadelphia, Pa., May 29.—The opening gun of the "sound" money campaign was fired last night at an enthusiastic public meeting in the Academy of Music. The principal speakers of the evening were: Ex-United States Senator George F. Edmunds, ex-Comptroller of the Currency William L. Trenholm, Congressman Michael D. Harter, of Ohio, ex-Minister to Russia Charles Emory Smith, and Joseph Wharton.

Mr. Edmunds said the sound money question must be decided by political action, not party action. The speaker discussed the variation in value of the two metals. "If any faith can be put in human experience," he said, "it ought to teach us that we cannot make a given amount of silver worth any more when it is printed at the mint with the stamp of the United States than it was before. If the last congress had passed on March 3, the last day of its session, what is now vociferously demanded by the free coinage people, every owner and producer of silver bullion would take his ounces of silver to the mint—worth 63.48 cents—and get $1.29. And having got more than two silver dollars for his ounces of silver, he would come to the workingman to whom he owes for labor and say: 'If I had bought it in metal it would have taken ten pounds; but I have taken it to a beneficent United States office and had it stamped and you must take five pounds of it.'"

Ex-Comptroller Trenholm said: "By general admission the gold idea and the silver idea are irreconcilable. A decision as to which is the right one can only be reached by reasoning predicated upon the facts and guided by logic. The principle of a definite and unchangeable monetary unit guided us to resumption in 1879, and since then it has secured for us ultimate safety in all the vicissitudes of business and all the commercial and financial panics that have swept over our country."

Congressman Harter argued that an abundance of money did not always prevent commercial and business depression. On the contrary, he urged, some of our financial panics had come at a time when money was redundant. Charles Emory Smith spoke on "The Workingman's Interests."

DANGER OF LYNCHING.

Another Assault Case Near Marshall, Illinois.

Marshall, Ill., May 29.—Lizzie Ancher, aged 16, daughter of Augustus Ancher, a farmer of this township, was the victim of a fiendish assault yesterday afternoon. She was busily sewing in the sitting room, when suddenly a strange young man entered and asked if her parents were at home. She replied that they were not, and he at once advanced upon her, drawing a revolver and threatening to kill her if she made any outcry. She attempted to run, but he caught her, and after a stout resistance on her part, assaulted her. Then he hurried to his buggy, sprang in, and drove off at a gallop. The girl, as soon as she was able, went over to the field where her parents and brother were at work, and told her mother of the outrage. The father at once hurried to the house, hitched to a light wagon, and started out also. The assailant is described as a young man, tall and slender, and with a prominent scar to the right of his nose. Had he been caught at once there would have been another Danville affair, as there were many threats of vengeance against him.

GEN. JONES WILL BE BUSHNELL'S MATE

NOMINATED FOR LIEUTENANT GOVERNOR TODAY.

Zanesville Convention Endorses Protection, Honest Money, Fair Elections and Reciprocity—General Bushnell Was Named Yesterday, and McKinley's Cause Advocated.

Zanesville, Ohio, May 29.—General A. W. Jones was this morning nominated for Lieutenant Governor by the republican convention amid cheers and a resolution was adopted favoring the protection of American industries, reciprocity, fair elections and honest money. General A. S. Bushnell was nominated for governor yesterday on the sixth ballot. He is a wealthy manufacturer of agricultural implements at Springfield, a member of the firm of Warder, Bushnell & Co. He was chairman of the republican committee six years ago.

The convention was called to order at 3 o'clock by Colonel Joseph C. Bonner, chairman of the state committee. Senator Sherman was given a rousing ovation when he was escorted into the hall at 3:50 by Congressman Van Voorhis and Judge Grandner. He was introduced as temporary presiding officer of the convention and on taking the chair made a stirring speech in favor of a gold coinage and the policy of protection.

At the conclusion of the senator's speech a committee on resolutions was appointed and afterward organized, with ex-Secretary Charles Foster as chairman. The convention then adjourned to 8 p. m. On reassembling the temporary organization was made permanent. The following names were presented to the convention for the nomination for governor: J. W. Barger, J. Warren Keifer, J. H. Hoyt, George K. Nash, Robert N. Nevin, A. L. Harris, and E. W. Poe. General Bushnell's name was not presented by any speaker. There were 827 delegates in the convention, 414 being necessary for a choice. On the sixth ballot General Bushnell was nominated, receiving 509 votes; Nash, 201; Hoyt, 111; necessary for a choice, 414.

The platform reaffirms adherence to the principles of the republican party as defined by the national convention in 1892, chief among which are: A protective tariff, fair elections, honest money, consisting of gold, silver, and paper, every dollar as good as any other dollar, and all backed by the national faith and honor. On the money question it says:

"We favor bimetalism and demand the use of both gold and silver as standard money, either in accordance with a ratio to be fixed by an international agreement, if that can be obtained, or under such restrictions and such provisions, to be determined by legislation, as will secure the maintenance of the parity of values of the two metals, so that the purchasing and debt-paying power of the dollar, whether of silver, gold, or paper, shall be at all times equal."

Of the national administration it says: "We denounce the present democratic administration, whose vicious and vacillating course has brought us distress at home and humiliation abroad." It declares against free wool and for protection of the sheep industry, favors the construction of the Nicaragua canal, and recommends that Senator Sherman and ex-Gov. Foraker be sent by the republicans of Ohio to the United States senate.

The platform concludes: "We present William McKinley to the republicans of the nation as a candidate for the nomination for president in 1896, and we pledge him the absolute and unswerving support of Ohio at the next national convention."

"We have heard with great sorrow of the sudden and untimely death of Hon. Walter Q. Gresham, late secretary of state, and we extend to his bereaved family our sympathy and condolence." The convention then adjourned to 9 o'clock this morning, when the ticket will be completed.

Single Gold Standard.

New York, May 29.—A London cablegram to the Evening Post says: Sir William Vernon Harcourt, chancellor of the exchequer, has formally replied to the memorial forwarded by influential bankers and financiers in terms emphasizing his previous strong remarks in favor of the gold standard. His reply concludes thus: "You may rely upon it that her majesty's government will give no countenance to any change in the fundamental principles of our monetary system, nor in any discussions in which they may be called upon to take part will they admit any doubt as to their intention firmly to adhere to the single gold standard."

Distinguished Southerners at Chicago.

Chicago, May 29.—Lieut.-Gen. James Longstreet and his two daughters, Mrs. Sanders and Miss Longstreet, arrived in Chicago at 5 o'clock last night to attend the dedication of the confederate monument, and later in the evening several other Southerners registered at the various hotels.

THE FUNERAL TRAIN IS NOW ON ITS WAY

GRESHAM WILL BE BURIED AT CHICAGO.

President, the Cabinet, and a Military Escort Are Accompanying the Remains, Which Left the Capital This Noon—The Funeral Will Be Held Tomorrow Afternoon.

Washington, May 29.—[Special].—The body of Secretary Gresham is speeding toward Chicago, escorted by the president, the cabinet and a detachment of troops. The remains lay in state in the East room, at the White house until noon, when they were taken to the train. The remains will be interred at Oakwood cemetery and the funeral will be held Thursday afternoon. The funeral train is an special on the Baltimore & Ohio and it will arrive in Chicago at noon tomorrow. The coffin will be taken from the train at the nearest point to the cemetery, and, after brief services, will be placed in the receiving vault pending the decision of the family as to its final resting place.

The President and his cabinet will act as escort and accompany the remains from the capital to Chicago, participating in whatever ceremonies may be decided upon at that end. All of the cabinet ministers are here except Secretary Carlisle, who will join the party here or at some point along the route.

Otto Gresham, son of the secretary, has arrived by special train from Harrisburg. He was met at the station by Assistant Postmaster-General Jones, who is a near personal friend of the family, who informed him that the end had come. He was prepared for the news, as a telegram from Mr. Jones had reached him at Altoona saying that he must be prepared for the worst.

The cabinet held a special meeting, which was given up wholly to tributes to the memory of their deceased associate. At the conclusion of the meeting Secretary Lamont made a brief statement of the funeral arrangements. The remains of the secretary will be taken from the Arlington hotel to the executive mansion and placed in the east room, where funeral services will be held at 10 o'clock. They will be conducted by Bishop Hurst of the Methodist Episcopal church. Seats will be reserved for the members of the diplomatic corps, the members of the United States Supreme court, such senators and members of congress as may be in the city, and the chiefs of the war and navy departments.

The body of Mr. Gresham, in a massive cloth-covered coffin, with handles of oxidized silver and a simple plate with name and dates, lay in state last night in the parlor of the suite which he occupied at the Arlington Hotel. The coffin was draped with the American flag, in the defense of which he fought. An immense and beautiful floral wreath covered the entire coffin, to which was attached a card with the inscription: "The Department of State." The features were exposed to view. The expression was placid and beautiful, as if it were the face of one who is indeed at rest.

All through the evening scores of people of all stations in life walked reverently through that quiet room and took a farewell look at the dead.

It is the purpose of the President and his cabinet, the latter acting as active pall-bearers, to return to Washington immediately after the short services at Oakwoods shall have been completed, and not to enter the city of Chicago further than the cemetery. As the train will run with a dining car it will not be necessary to go to a hotel. The President expects to be back in Washington Friday night.

The funeral ceremonies in Washington are of a semi-official character, as they are held in the east room of the White House, with the President and his cabinet, justices of the Supreme court, ambassadors and ministers, representatives of the departments and the army and navy, and others present, and all official business suspended for the day.

Everywhere there are emblems of sadness. On all hands one sees the token of sincerest human sympathy. All partisanship seems buried in Walter Gresham's grave. However great the difference as to politics and policies there is but one voice here now. All Washington is mourning because of a great man gone. The huge baskets overflowing with cards bear witness to the esteem in which the dead was held. No one who is known in Washington political, official, diplomatic, or social life failed to call and tender sympathy and respect. The mourners were left alone in their sorrow.

UHL WILL BE IN CHARGE.

Successor of Mr. Gresham Not Soon to Be Selected.

Washington, May 29.—It is intimated in official circles that Secretary Gresham's successor in the cabinet will not be named for several weeks, and that in the meantime Assistant Secretary Uhl will perform the duties. Grave international problems are pressing for solution, but the president has always taken such a deep interest in every detail of state department affairs, and, in fact, dominated the foreign policy, that a secretary is not a strict necessity of the moment.

The most serious question now on the hooks is the Venezuela boundary dispute. Secretary Gresham, acting under the president's instruction, had already requested Great Britain to submit the points of the controversy to arbitration. Many names figure in the calculations as reasonable probabilities for secretary of state. Don M. Dickinson is easily at the head of this, having declined the office at the commencement of the administration; William C. Whitney occupies a place in the minds of many, while not a few believe that Bayard may be transferred from the court of St. James to his old post.

of Secretary Gresham.

Nashville, May 29.—The Tennessee house of representatives yesterday adjourned until this morning out of respect to the memory of Secretary Gresham. The resolution was simply worded, referring to Mr. Gresham as "that distinguished soldier and statesman."

To Honor the Dead Secretary.

Washington, May 29.—As soon as the funeral arrangements had been agreed upon Acting Secretary Uhl sent formal notice of the death, invitation to the funeral to all the legations, and a general cablegram to all United States embassies and legations abroad, with directions to place all flags at half mast for ten days, which order the ministers were instructed to repeat to every United States consulate in the world.

ILLINOIS LEGISLATURE.

Revenue Bill Defeated in the Senate Yesterday.

Springfield, Ill., May 29.—Senator Littler's revenue bill, which came up in the senate yesterday on third reading failed to pass that branch of the general assembly, the vote being 17 yeas to 18 nays. Senator Littler gave notice that he would move for a reconsideration. Senator Aspinwall called up the house bill to prevent the coloring of oleomargarine to resemble butter, and asked that it be read for the first time and advanced without reference to a committee. Objections were made, and a motion to suspend the rules was carried by a vote of 38 yeas to 1 nay.

The bill authorizing cities, villages, and towns endangered by the washing away of the banks of any river to transfer their sites and to preserve their rights, powers and names was passed by unanimous vote.

In the house Callahan's bill revising the election law came up as a special order on second reading. About forty committee amendments of minor importance were adopted. Mr. Stoskopf offered an amendment, which was adopted, providing that ballots may be marked with lead pencils. Consideration of the bill occupied all the forenoon and it was finally ordered to third reading. It revises the whole election law.

The senate bill to provide that the indorser of a negotiable instrument may be sued concurrently with or in preference to the maker of such instrument was passed, yeas 33, nays 19. Mr. Needles gave notice of a motion to reconsider. Many appropriation bills were passed.

As a sequel to the Danville lynching, Representative Bailey of Vermilion introduced a bill in the house making criminal assault a capital offense. Mr. Bailey says a determined effort will be made to pass the bill.

These two members are to meet June 4, and decide upon a third member. The object of the board is to settle all disputes between employers and employees by means of arbitration.

San Antonio, Texas, May 29.—Nat Sulzbacher, of this city, has just returned from the Devil's River country, where he came near being a victim of the terrible flood that visited that section last Thursday. He helped to bury four persons who met their death by drowning near Ozona. Two others belonging to the same family were drowned, but their bodies were not recovered. The victims were George Velasco's wife and the latter's two brothers and three sisters. Devil's river rose thirty feet within thirty minutes and swept their house and the whole family into the raging torrent. All the houses in the Prosser ranch, between Juno and Comstock, were swept away, and several families, numbering in all about twenty persons, are believed to have been drowned. The Devil's river and its branches are still out of their banks, and much damage to property along the streams is reported.

Talk of Seminary Control.

Pittsburg, Pa., May 29.—The question of seminary control occupied the attention of the United Presbyterian general assembly yesterday. There were two reports offered from the committee on bills and overtures, a majority and a minority report. Nothing was done in the matter before adjournment.

RIDE OR PAY FINES ON MEMORIAL DAY

THE ARROW CYCLING CLUB WILL TURN OUT.

Resolution Adopted at the Meeting Held Last Night—The New Officers Elected and New Members Admitted—Other Meetings of Various Kinds Held Last Evening.

That the Arrow Cycling Club is a patriotic body was plainly shown last night when the club voted unanimously to turn out as a club Memorial day. And they went further than that. Members who do not turn out will be fined.

This graceful compliment to the honored dead was the result of the meeting held at the club house last evening, and the resolution was adopted with a spirit that showed that the members meant business. The session was the first one held as an incorporated body, the articles having been taken out a few days ago. This step made it necessary to choose a new set of officers and a board of directors, the election resulting as follows:

President—Will A. Jackson.

First vice president—Orion Sutherland.

Second vice president—John Cunningham.

Third vice president—George Sutherland.

Financial secretary—W. F. Pfe-nig.

Recording secretary—Dr. Charles T. Pierce.

Treasurer—Frank H. Jackman.

Directors—J. D. Holmes, J. Glen DeLong, Fred P. King, Dr. R. W. Edden, Frank E. Sanner and Burton F. Nowlan.

In the hands of the officers and directors, all the business of the club is placed, and the first vice president presides at the directors' meetings. Twelve new members, associate and active, were taken in, which makes the total membership at the present time, ninety-six. Much other business was also transacted, and the reports of committees were heard, after which the club adjourned to meet Tuesday evening, June 4. It is urged that every member who can possibly arrange it to turn out tomorrow, to do so, as the club would rather have the men in line than to receive their money for fines.

UNCLE TOM'S CABIN PLAYED WELL

Last Night's Production Was All That Could Be Desired.

Lewis & Elliott's Uncle Tom's Cabin Company gave a very good rendition of that time honored play at the Myers Grand last night, and a good sized audience was present. It was quite a relief to see Harriet Beecher Stowe's famous story enacted by people who were other than mere "barnstormers" and depending on the name of the play for their patronage as the parts, in this organization were placed in competent hands. Warren Ashley as Uncle Tom, J. H. Huntley as St. Clair, Edwin Gardner as Marks, Fanny Grant Huntley as Topsy and six year old Byron Gardner as Eva, all did excellent work. The company go from here to Racine.

THEY MET THEIR NEW PASTOR

Reception Given Rev. V. E. Southworth at the Home of Mr. and Mrs. Treat.

Members of All Souls church and a number of others embraced the opportunity afforded by the public reception given by Mr. and Mrs. L. R. Treat last evening, to meet Rev. Victor E. Southworth, the new pastor of All Souls church, and an hour or two was very pleasantly spent. Rev. Mr. Southworth is a man of pleasing personality as well as brilliant mental attainments, and his work at All Souls is attracting much attention. The first reception in his honor, made it possible for him to make many new acquaintances who will doubtless soon be the friends who will co-operate with him in the work.

cyclones' flag to the breeze yesterday, the ladies of the Congregational church, who had announced that they would serve ice cream and cake at the church parlors in the evening, began to feel discouraged; but when, later in the afternoon, a section of the hot winds that singed the Illinois wheat crop arrived, they felt better. The tables were quite liberally patronized in consequence of the change, and all who partook of their hospitality felt well repaid.

DEATH OF HENRY B. ELDRED.

The Cleveland Leader Pays The Departed Pastor a Feeling Tribute.

The Cleveland, Ohio, Daily Leader of Sunday, May 26, gives the following facts concerning the death and funeral of Rev. Henry Bushnell Eldred, brother of F. S. Eldred, of this city. Under the heading "Only one charge; Rev. Henry Bushnell Eldred, who died Thursday, was pastor of a church in Trumbull county for thirty-six years—a recent gift to the Adelbert Young Men's Christian Association." The Leader says:

"The funeral of Rev. Henry Bushnell Eldred, whose death occurred Thursday, took place yesterday morning from the Euclid Avenue Congregational church, corner of Euclid and Logan avenues, Rev. Dr. Henry M. Ladd officiating.

"Rev. Mr. Eldred never had but one charge, this being at Kingsman, bull county, Ohio, where he presided at the first church for thirty six years. Twenty-one years ago he came to Cleveland and has resided in the city ever since.

"At the family home, No. 744 Logan avenue, President Thwing read a short passage of scripture, after which the body was taken to the church, where Rev. Dr. Ladd conducted the services and Rev. Dr. H. C. Haydn offered prayer.

Speeches were made by Professor Collie, F. F. Dunlay, President Eaton, W. A. Atkinson and others. A great enthusiasm was shown and also for the prospects of next year's teams. It was moved and carried that subscription papers be circulated in the classes and as much as possible raised there and there. This was done and Professor Collie started by agreeing to give one-fourth as much as the rest of the faculty put together. Inside of twenty minutes $1053 was pledged, $109 of which was given by the faculty.

WEATHER SCHEDULE FOR JUNE

Average Temperature, Precipitation, Etc. From Weather Statistics.

The month of roses, charming June, will probably have an average temperature of 63 degrees if the experience of the past twenty-four years can be relied upon. The warmest June was in 1894, when the average was 69 degrees, and the coldest was in 1889, with an average of 58 degrees. On June 28, 1890 the thermometer touched the 95 degree mark and on June 6, 1894, it fell to 38 degrees. The average date of the last killing frost is April 30. The average June precipitation is 4.13 inches, the largest being 6.93 inches in 1880 and the smallest .81 inches in 1887. The greatest amount of precipitation recorded in any twenty-four consecutive hours was 2.29 inches on the 1st and 2d, 1875. The average number of clear days is 8; partly cloudy days 15; cloudy days 7. The prevailing winds have been from the southwest.

BETTER THAN A GOLD MINE.

Last month I cleared, after paying all expenses, $238.38; the month before $186.36 and have at the same time attended to my regular business. I believe anyone, anywhere, can do as well, as I have not a particularly good location and not much experience. When you have an article that every family wants, it is very easy selling it. It seems strange that a good, cheap dish washer was never before placed on the market. With the perfection, which sells for $5 you can wash and dry the dishes for a family in two minutes, without putting the hands in water. As soon as people see the washer work, they want one, and that is why so much money can be made so quickly. For full particulars address The Perfection Mfg. Co., Station O, Englewood, Ill. I feel convinced that any lady or gentleman, in any location, can make $5 to $10 a day, as every family will very soon have a dish washer. Try it and publish your experience for the benefit of others. ALICE O.

THE TOWN TALK OF A DAY.

SOME buggies that are being widely advertised, we, have on our floor, would like to have you come in and compare with the Henney. We bought so as to use for comparison and any one who is a judge of a buggy can see at once the superiority of the Henney. Yet, we ask no more for the Henney than some folks do for the inferior makes which we have to show you. F. A. Taylor.

No more high priced shoes, times are too hard, little money. High prices are knocked out. We are doing the shoe business of this city. The remark of one of the best shoe men of this city, says it is a shame to sell such good goods at the prices we are. We have as good goods as any shoe store in Wisconsin, no better, but the prices are way below all others. Winslow & Lowell.

The greatest sale of shoes ever in this town took place today at Winslow & Lowell's. It was their sale No. 1, and as they sold the Richardson & Norcross $3.50 and $4 shoes, for 79c., it created a furor. No greater crowd has ever been seen anywhere trying to get into the same space; and many could not get waited upon, but as they keep open tonight it is highly probable that you can get in and get a pair of these shoes for 79 cents.

We keep right on busy as ever, no idle moments here, cannot even stop to put the stock on the shelf until after closing hours. The best will always bring trade, no one can touch us on the quality of the goods and we think no one can sell cheaper than 50 cents on the dollar of factory cost. Becker & Woodruff.

We have on our floor now some other makes of buggies bought for the purpose of using as a comparison, and we would like to have those contemplating getting a new buggy just to step in and note the difference. There is no buggy in existence that will compare with the Henney. F. A. Taylor.

EDWARDS ALL RIGHT, BELOIT PEOPLE SAY

STRENUOUSLY DENY THAT HE IS A "CROOK."

Letter From the Japanese Correspondent Resulted From a Misunderstanding, and His Delayed Return to That Country—Where is the Gypsies' Horse?

Beloit relatives of Leo Edwards, whom a correspondent at Japan charges with fraudulent practices among the Americans in that country, insist that the charges are false, and as The Gazette wishes Mr. Edwards to get a fair show, the following from the Beloit Free Press of last evening is reproduced.

"It transpires that Leo Edwards, the person charged by a resident of Japan with being guilty of fraudulent transaction there, is a son-in-law of B. Leffingwell of this city, and lately visited here, and is now on his way to Japan on business. The relatives are much grieved over the publication of the letter from Japan and say the charges are wholly false and must have grown out of a delay of Mr. Edwards in returning to Japan, as he was unavoidably kept here by business. They say he is now enroute for Japan with bottling outfits to put his beer business in operation, and that it is the Schlitz and not the Pabst company that he represents. They think people interested with Mr. Edwards in the beer bottling scheme became worried over his seemingly long absence and were so unkind as to write to Beloit that he was 'crooked.' Marshal Appleby, who looked up the person, Leo Edwards, and concluded that there had never been any such person here, is as much surprised as anybody to know that Mr. Edwards is the person referred to, and he and the Free Press are sorry to know that Mr. Edwards has been put before the public in a bad and false light."

The black horse which disappeared from the gypsies' camp near this city has not been heard from since its leaving was first discovered. The man whom the gypsies traded with found to be John Albright, who resides in the town of Center, but he says that the animal has not been seen about his place, and the police, who have been keeping a sharp lookout, now believe that some one has taken it in as it wandered along the road and is keeping it. In the meantime the band of wanderers have moved on, still mourning their loss.

THE TWO SPARROWS DIED GAME

Couple of Birds Run Over and Killed While Fighting.

If, on account of their smallness, the average person thinks that the little English sparrow is not "game" they should have witnessed an encounter which took place in front of the Myers House last evening. The sparrows have been seen in daily quarrels about the streets, but when the two little birds clinched together last evening the feathers began to fly. After picking at each other and rolling in the dirt for at least five minutes they fell over together both exhausted and the wheel of a farmers' wagon passed over them killing them both instantly.

OUR ABILITY

BEGINNING EARLY is half the battle. Don't wait for your cough to run into consumption. There's always danger of it. The germs or seeds of this disease are all around you. All that they want is an inactive liver and the scrofulous condition that follows it, to develop them.

You need Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, now, to thoroughly purify your blood, build up sound, firm, honest flesh, and make every weak spot strong. It's a certain remedy for the earlier stages of Consumption.

Campbell, Ohio.
Dr. R. V. Pierce: Dear Sir—Two of our best doctors pronounced my case consumption. I spent nearly $300, and was no better. I concluded to try the "Golden Medical Discovery." I bought eight bottles, and I can now say with truth that I feel just as well today as I did at twenty-five, and can do just as good a day's work on the farm, although I had not done any work for several years. I give you all the thanks.

A little Cincinnati boy, who was an inmate of the state institution for the blind, was placed in the carpenter shop the other day for the purpose of learning the trade. The boy was given his first lesson, and he worked very industriously until the teacher came around again, when he said:

"Did you say that God knows everything?"

The teacher said: "Yes."

"Do you think He sees everything that is made?" the boy asked.

"Yes," was the answer.

COATS AND SKIRTS.

Haircloth Gowns More Expensive, but They Are Still Worn.

Capes, though undoubtedly the outdoor garments of the hour, will not completely monopolize the fashionable wear, and the jackets that have been prepared for those who feel equal to wrestling with the getting on and off (over sleeves composed of a couple of yards of material) of a coat are nearly all tight fitting, with shorter basques than they have been of late cut with, and the most popular form of trimming is applique of velvet, cloth, satin and silk, applied to the large Robespierre revers, collar and cuffs. Fawn appears to be the color for these coats, as for an immense number of the model gowns and capes seen.

Haircloth, which grows more and more expensive, is required as a complete lining for the skirt only when godets are desired. It refuses to confine itself in small gathers, and therefore when it is carried up the back of a skirt as far as the waist godets are the result, whatever may have been the original intention of the amateur dressmaker. Where a plain gathered skirt is desired the haircloth should be carried not more than 18 inches above the hem, but very carefully fitted to the shape of the skirt, with the hair running parallel with the hem. It must be carefully sewed together to prevent its pulling apart at the seams—a fault to which it is prone. French dressmakers who cannot afford silk linings employ alpaca, otherwise brilliantine, which has a certain stiffness and body.

The gown of which an illustration is given is of violet veloutine. The skirt, which falls in godets, has a slight train and is trimmed around the foot with an application of duchess lace. The tablier is defined by two quilles of emerald velvet. The fitted bodice has three plaits of emerald velvet, which extend over the yoke-like collar of lace. This collar is wide enough to lie upon the expansive veloutine sleeves, which have deep cuffs of lace.

JUDIC CHAILLET.

A Female Fire Brigade.

The credit of saving the large railroad restaurant from destruction by fire at Rockingham Junction, N. H., is due to the young ladies employed at the restaurant. Manager Graves gave each girl a water pail, and they mounted the roof, and by a systematic arrangement the water was passed up to them one pail at a time and emptied on to the slowly burning timber whenever it blazed out anew. It was an interesting sight.

A Hop, Skip and Jump.

An athletic caper of this sort would scarcely be considered indecorous in one, even of mature age and sedate habits, impelled thereto by excess of joy on recovering his digestion through the instrumentality of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, foremost among remedies for dyspepsia, biliousness and constipation, a trio of evils usually found in conjunction with each other. As the stomach recovers its tone, and the gastric juices are secreted in beautiful plenitude through the agency of this superb restorative, nerve tranquility, appetite and sleep return, the body gains in substance and the muscles in vigor. For the prevention and cure of malarious, rheumatic and kidney trouble the Bitters is a most direct and thoroughgoing medicinal agent. Its effects are speedily felt and comprehensive.

THE HEROIC DEAD.

Four score and seven years ago our fathers brought forth upon this continent a new nation, conceived in liberty, and dedicated to the purpose that all men are created equal. Now we are engaged in a great civil war, testing whether that nation, or any nation so conceived and so dedicated, can long endure. We are met on a great battle-field of that war. We have come to dedicate a portion of that field as a final resting-place for those who here gave their lives that that nation might live. It is altogether fitting and proper that we should do this. But in a larger sense we cannot dedicate, we cannot consecrate we cannot hallow this ground. The great men, living and dead, who struggled here, have consecrated it far above our power to add or detract. The world will little note, nor long remember, what we say here, but it can never forget what they did here. It is for us, the living, rather to be dedicated to the unfinished work which they who fought here have thus far so nobly advanced. It is rather for us to be here dedicated to the great task remaining before us, that from these honored dead we take increased devotion to that cause for which they gave the last full measure of devotion; that we highly resolve that these dead shall not have died in vain; that this nation under God, shall have a new birth of freedom, and that government of the people, by the people, and for the people, shall not perish from the earth.—LINCOLN.

SECRETARY GRESHAM.

In the death of Secretary Gresham the country has lost a representative, self-made, American citizen. Whatever may have been lacking in judgment, Mr. Gresham was recognized as an honest man and an earnest advocate of the truth as he understood it. The mistakes of his life were of the head and not of the heart. Patriotic at a time when patriotism meant sacrifice, he was found in the front in the days of civil strife, where he gained recognition for bravery. At the close of the war and after General Grant was elected president, Gresham, for whom he had a warm attachment, was appointed judge. He possessed elements of popularity that gave him national prominence and put him in the field as a presidential possibility during the first Harrison campaign. Disappointment led him to declare against the successful candidate, and after refusing a nomination tendered him by the populists at the Omaha convention, he landed in the democratic party and finally in President Cleveland's political household. While not possessing all of the elements of greatness, his record for honesty of purpose is untarnished, and his death will be sincerely mourned by the nation that he loved.

COMMON HONESTY.

Democratization and the "crime of 1873" when silver is said to have been demonetized, are fruitful topics for the advocates of free coinage on a 16 to 1 basis. By this class of agitators, every man who advocates honest money, is denounced as a "gold bug" and an enemy to national prosperity. The question is sneeringly asked: "What do you mean by honest money?" There are some facts connected with the history of silver as a standard of value that are frequently overlooked. One of them is that silver demonetized itself long before 1873, simply because the bullion in a silver dollar was worth more for other purposes than for coinage. The act of 1873, simply recorded the facts that existed. The same experiences would be repeated today if silver bullion should advance to a point where 412 grains of it were worth $1.03 in gold, as it was in 1873. No law could compel the owner of the bullion to furnish it for coinage purposes at less than the market value. Then came a time in the later seventies when silver bullion dropped below the dollar mark, and the government was induced to become a purchaser, first of $2,000,000 a month, and five years later, of double that amount. Under the stimulus of a steady and profitable customer, new mines were developed, and the stock of silver rapidly increased, until today the government is loaded with hundreds of tons of silver coin and bullion, with no possible outlet for it. If the government was obliged to realize on its stock of silver at the market price of bullion, the $369,000,000 would shrink to half that amount. A business man with this sort of an asset, who should attempt to satisfy his creditors by a fictitious value of the same proportion, would not only be called dishonest, but charges of fraud would hold against him, in any court in the land. Common honesty may be an homely term, and yet it applies to the silver question with tremendous force. Not that 16 to 1 silver men are dishonest in motive, for that does not necessarily follow, but they allow their prejudices and fanaticism to warp their judgment on a question of national finance. These men do not believe in the single standard of either gold or silver, and yet they fail to recognize the fact that with the free and unlimited coinage of silver on a 16 to 1 basis, without the co-operation of other nations, would result in the single standard of silver in less than twenty-four hours. It may be possible by wise legislation to maintain a parity between gold and silver that we now have on hand but flood the country with an unlimited amount of depreciated silver and bankruptcy will follow in short order.

The national bank notes of the smallest bank of issue in this country are worth face value in any country under the sun. While American silver dollars are worth their weight in bullion at market value in any country but our own. This is true because the national bank note has behind it as collateral the government bond payable in gold, while the silver dollar has behind it the weight of silver bullion. If there is any necessity for, or any good argument in favor of unlimited coinage on a 16 to 1 basis or any other basis except dollar for dollar it has not yet appeared on the surface.

NEWS OF LOCAL IMPORT.

THE unbroken regularity of the visits of Dr. Brewer, the celebrated physician, is at once the best evidence of his professional standing, and of his success in the treatment of disease. Those out of health we believe, can have implicit confidence in Dr. Brewer, and feel certain in consulting with him, that he is thoroughly educated, with years of experience in the treatment of chronic diseases exclusively. He will be for consultation on his next visit at the Park hotel on Monday, June 3.

SPECIAL sale No. 1 beats the world; some never stop for sizes, but take three and four pair; never heard of such prices; three gentlemen from Chicago bought two pair each, by express, to Chicago. Well, we will have special sale No. 2 in a few days again. Look out for it; new goods coming every day. Remember, you have your pick of any ladies' shoe in the house for $2, regardless of cost; F. M. Marzluff & Co's all go at $2. Winklow & Lowell.

We are not trying to fool you. We have no slight of hand games to play; no jugglery; no percentage to figure; we tell you what the North company got for a certain shoe; it's marked in plain figures; and what we will sell it to you for. You don't have to be a judge of shoes nor a graduate of some famed college to see through that deal; it's plain as the nose on your face. You can't get left on any shoes in the North stock. Brown Bros. & Lincoln.

HAD no idea our trade would keep increasing as it has been doing; supposed that the "new broom" story might avail, but such is not the case. Every day since we opened the Ford in Lac stock here it has increased, and our sales have grown larger. People we never saw before come in and ask for the best makes of shoes in the world at 50 cents on the dollar, and they get them, for we have just that kind to sell. Becker & Woodruff.

"KILLING the business". Well that's funny. People come to this town every day to buy shoes, and they buy other goods too, just because we are selling at 50 cents on the dollar, suppose it does hurt the trade of those fellows who stick to the high prices. Becker & Woodruff.

Center of Attraction.

All day long a crowd of people, many old soldiers, among them, have been in front of Bort, Bailey & Co's window, viewing the many relics of the war displayed and looking at the pictures of Sheridan, Lincoln, Grant and Garfield draped with stars and stripes and the American Eagle hovering over all. It is one of the most attractive windows ever put in the town and does much to show the progressiveness of this house. It is in exact keeping with tomorrow and the many remembrances it will bring back to those who fought under those colors at the different points named will be food for hundreds of people.

No man is well dressed at any price if a butcher cuts his suit.

TOWN'S TALES TOLD IN A LINE OR TWO

THE STRIKE SITUATION STILL REMAINS UNCHANGED.

Both Sides Seem To Be Perfectly Contented To Remain Idle, and Neither Is Ready, Apparently, To Yield the Mooted Point—Happenings of Interest Gathered on the City Streets

There appears to be nothing new in relation to the strike at the cotton factories, and very little can be learned. It is evident, however, that there is very little likelihood of an understanding being reached for some time to come. The managers of the factory claim that it is out of the question for them to accede to the demand for an increase of wages, while all that can be learned from the side of the operatives is that they will not return to work under the old wage system. While this is not the unanimous expression of the operatives, a majority appear to be of that opinion. A meeting of the operatives will be held at Central Labor hall this evening to further discuss the situation, and for the purpose of furthering the organization of a union among the employees of both factories. No one can predict the result but indications now point to the fact that they will resolve to stand by the demand. The managers on the other hand, do not appear much concerned about the situation. "We can certainly stand a shut down if the help can," said one of the directors this morning; "It makes very little difference with us. The fact is there is no money in it at present prices. The cotton mills were never a profitable investment, as every one who has put money in them have realized."

We have lately gone to considerable expense for the proper handling of fresh fish. Orders left for fresh lobsters, soft shell crabs, Roe shad, frogs' legs, clams, salmon and halibut, by 6 p. m. Wednesday, will insure their delivery Friday morning. Conrad & Co. South Main Street.

RICHARD CANTILLON IS HOME

Accident That Befel Him Will Lay Him Up For Some Time.

Richard Cantillon who was injured by a coupling pin at Fort Howard arrived in the city on the noon train from the north, and was immediately taken to his home on North Hickory street. While making the coupling the cars backed down on him at a good rate of speed, striking the coupling, so that the pin was thrown with much force, striking him below the left knee, making a hole the exact size of the pin head. Although no bones are broken the accident will lay him up for some time to come.

An Incident at the Recent Encampment at Green Bay.

Department headquarters were at the "Beaumont." In its spacious lobby the veterans met to exchange greetings and recall the past. The continuous hum of voices—now in soft cadences, now rising in grand crescendo, till hall and archways resounded with the voices of war-scarred veterans. It was an inspiring scene; and many a man looked on in silent awe as he read here the history of the great rebellion.

Just now four distinguished looking individuals, with military bearing, were seen standing in group, bunching hands. No observing man could pass such a group without noticing their knightly bearing, their benign, clear cut, thoughtful faces. As we look, another striking feature comes into view. The four hands extended in the greeting are the only hands in the group. Four empty sleeves hung limp from the shoulders of these men, intensifying the picture. Many a comrade stood with bowed head and moistened eye as this distinguished group dispersed, not seeming to have noticed the interest their accidental grouping had awakened.

These were all Wisconsin men who fought her battles. The soil of the rebellious south was enriched by the blood of these heroes who hewed their way through treason's ranks, making a pathway wherein the feet of Freedom may walk untroubled forevermore.

It read: "Delegates to the annual fish slaying expedition of the Birthday club—'Pat Rooney' Baker, 'Ole' Rowe, 'His Honor' Baines, 'Cholley' Marzluff, 'Averdupols' Porter, 'Billy West' Murdock, 'Kicker' McLean, 'Foxey' McLean, 'Handsome' Moust and 'Dodrotit' Judd. COW CASE IN COURT; CRUELTY CHARGED

PLYMOUTH MEN ARRESTED AND ARRAIGNED TODAY.

Both Pleaded Not Guilty, and the Case Was Adjourned For a Week—Jay Jones Testifies in His Own Behalf, and the Action Is Continued—Beloit Men in Evidence.

Frank Corryell and Henry Schuman, of Plymouth, were arrested this morning and brought into the municipal court charged with over driving and cruelly beating three cows. Both pleaded not guilty to the charge when the case was adjourned until June 6, at 10 a. m.

The somewhat celebrated case of Jay Jones of Clinton, on charge of embezzlement, came up again this morning in the municipal court. Olaf Johnson testified in behalf of the defendant when the defendant himself took the witness box and testified in his own behalf, at the conclusion of which the attorneys announced that the testimony was all in. After a little consultation the attorneys the case was again continued until June 4, at 20 a. m., it was said, to give the attorneys an opportunity to examine the evidence before making their arguments.

Beloit Men Came Thick.

The police were kept busy yesterday afternoon answering calls, from different parts of the city. One arrest made in an east side alley, resulted in the capture of a drunken farmer, who upon being questioned by the sheriff, gave Beloit as his home. He had hardly been jailed before a second message came, calling the turnkey to South Main street, where an old one armed soldier was arrested for being a tramp; and a common beggar. When taken to the jail, the first question asked him was, where he lived.

"Well, Mr. Sheriff, when I am at home, I claim Beloit as my place of residence," he said.

The sheriff having been a resident of the Line City for a number of years, thinks this a little too much.

The man was freed last evening but was arrested again today for being drunk. Sheriff Appleby is now having a new one-arm saw made for his benefit.

Harry Ames Goes Free.

Harry Ames the Beloit saloon man who was arrested on the charge of selling liquor to a confirmed drunkard while in the saloon business at Belvidere Ill., and taken back to that city to answer the charge, has, the Beloit papers say, gotten out of the clutches of the law. He had made some sort of a settlement that cost him $500. There were several indictments against him.

The police received notice from the Harvard officials that, crooks or tramps who had stolen a keg of beer from a beer car that was being unloaded there, were headed this way and to keep a sharp look out for them. The officers kept an eye open during last evening, and when Officer Hogan spied two suspicious looking men answering their description, he placed them under arrest. Nothing was found on their person at the jail, and the officers are rather doubtful as to their being the right men.

Three more drunks have arrived at the jail to board at the sheriff's expense. Charles Roberts and Ole Englebreten were given ten days each by a Clinton justice, while the city of Edgerton contributed Herman Peterson for five days.

GROCERS WILL GIVE A PICNIC

The Dealers Will Furnish the Fun For the Employees

A meeting was held last evening by local grocers, and a picnic on a large scale was talked of. The scheme is to close the stores one afternoon in June and give all their help a half holiday, all expenses to be paid by the proprietors. Although no special time has been set, it will take place some time within the next two weeks, and will be held at one of the up river resorts.

An Eccentric Artist.

The most talked of artist in the world today is a slender, frail young man of 29 years who was earning $1.75 a week a few years ago with a T square in an architect's office, and whose income at present is fully $20,000 a year. He is praised, ridiculed and abused as few artists have ever been before, but the whole world is talking about him and buying his grotesque pictures. Aubrey Beardsley lives in London, and it is chiefly to Oscar Wilde that his peculiar style of drawing owes its vogue, the patronage of that writer having made them popular. Covers for books, theatrical posters and illustrations for novels are turned out by the industrious young artist in great numbers.

A Famous Novelist and His Wife.

Thomas Hardy, the famous novelist, started life as an architect, and it was due to persuasions of his wife, who was a Miss Gifford, that he abandoned that profession for literature. To Mrs. Hardy, then, the world is largely indebted for those masterpieces of fiction, "Far From the Madding Crowd" and "Tess of the D'Urbervilles." In the winter the Hardys occupy a London flat and the remainder of the year are traveling in Scotland or on the continent or are at their beautiful home, Max Gate, at Dorchester. Mrs. Hardy acts as her husband's amanuensis.

The Duke of Aosta is the eldest son of the late Amadeus of Savoy, who ruled Spain for a few years. The duke is immensely wealthy, and as the only lives between him and the throne of Italy are those of King Humbert and his son, the young crown prince, there is a strong possibility that the Princess Helene, denied a throne in France, may find one in Italy as the wife of the Duke of Aosta.

TELL-TALE FACES.

PINCHED AND CAREWORN.

As Worn by Many American Women.

[SPECIAL TO OUR LADY READERS.]

The "tell-tale face" is worn by many American women, and is a symptom of symptoms, a signal of distress.

While women do all in their power to hide their condition, the practised eye soon detects the trouble.

When pains and aches are felt in every part of the body, when faintness, dizziness, and that bearing-down feeling prevail, when loss of sleep and appetite are reducing flesh daily, when the society of friends is irksome, and the hopeless "blues" predominate, then the face is pinched, haggard, and careworn, and prompt relief is necessary, or a beautiful life will be sacrificed.

An American woman, Lydia E. Pinkham, a student of women and their diseases, twenty years ago succeeded in producing an absolute cure for all diseases of women. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound stands to-day as it did then, pre-eminent.

Mrs. H. Wampler, of Baraboo, Wis., whose letter we were permitted to publish last year, writes that she hopes Mrs. Pinkham will continue to use her name, as the publication in newspapers of the account of her own wonderful cure and relief from years of misery has been the means of influencing many suffering women to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and become well like herself. Mrs. Wampler feels, and rightly, too, that in this way she is doing a great good.

A good many jokes have been elaborated—at the expense of druggist—on account of his supposed large profits. The above little clipping from the great New York Herald may be taken as an indication that the press and the public are beginning to see the question in another light. We could write volumes on the subject, but perhaps you would not wade through them. This, however, we will assert here:—The drug store is the proper place to get anything in the drug line, and we can prove that our prices are as low and our goods as good as anywhere else in town. ALL FAMILIES WANT THE GAZETTE PRIZE

BABY CONTEST IS GETTING VERY SPIRITED.

Five Hundred Dollars Worth of Building and Loan Association Stock Is a Nice Nest Egg For a Three Year Old and the Vote Between Several Contestants is Very Close.

The time is not far distant now, when some Janesville baby will get The Gazette's $500 prize. The ballot closes June 1, and then the prize will be awarded. Five hundred dollars is a nice sum for a baby to begin life with. Put it out at interest and when the babe becomes the man or woman, enough cash for a start in life is available.

Do not think that you can sit down and wait for that $500 to come to your home. The ballots are piling up rapidly, for, naturally enough, $500 is enough to encourage every father and mother in Janesville to strive for that prize for their "ownest own." Competition is getting strong as the time begins to narrow down and in this case the old adage, "everything comes to he who waits" is far from true. It should be "everything comes to he who hustles." The Gazette has been asked many times to publish the vote as it stands, but this would not be fair. It would tell Brown that Jones was leading him, and The Gazette wishes to treat all hands alike. However, the count is close between several contestants up to date, and like everything else, the "early bird," etc., applies.

The Gazette's offer is this: The baby receiving the highest number of votes will be presented with $500 worth of stock in the Rock County Building, Loan & Savings Association.

It will buy an education. It will buy a building lot. It will buy a piano and the lessons necessary to play upon it.

It is more than many people are able to save in a life time. Of course all the mothers and fathers want it for their babe. How to get it is told below:

The polls opened on May 1st and will remain open until June 1. The baby that receives the most ballots in that time will receive a certificate calling for these five shares of stock. There are no dues to be paid, no assessments to be met, no installments to provide for. The stock stands for $500 in cash and on its maturity, which will be in nine and one-third years, the money will be ready. The prize is a handsome one—it is well worth winning and the conditions of the ballot are as follows:

From March 1 until June 1, a coupon will be printed in each issue of The Gazette.

Any one, anywhere in any state is entitled to vote as often as they buy a copy of The Janesville Gazette containing the above ballot.

Cut the ballot out (trimming on the dotted lines.) Write in the name of your candidate and enclose same in an envelope addressed to Ballot Editor, Gazette, Janesville, Wis.

Only one person can be voted for on one ballot.

The baby who receives the largest number of votes will receive five shares of stock in the Rock County Building & Savings Association, cash value, $500 at maturity.

The contest will close June 1 at 9 p. m., and the stock will be delivered as soon as the count of votes is completed.

Any non-subscriber who will subscribe for The Gazette and pay in advance will be entitled to the following number of ballots:

New subscriber paid in advance one month, 100 votes.

New subscriber paid in advance two months, 250 votes.

New subscriber paid in advance six months, 900 votes.

New subscriber paid in advance one year, 2,000 votes.

Each new subscriber who pays in advance and casts the number of votes specified is also entitled, of course, to cut coupons from the paper from day to day and vote in the regular manner.

No person will be allowed extra votes for stopping his paper and having it sent to another name at the same address.

In every instance they must be bona fide new subscribers.

No person will be allowed to stop his paper on Monday and start it again Tuesday and claim the premium offered.

No votes can be transferred from one candidate to another after being registered in this office.

Candidates must not be more than three years of age March 1, 1895, and must live in Janesville.

THE BALLOT.

The Publishers of "The Janesville Gazette" will give 5 Shares of stock in the Rock County Building, Loan & Savings Association to the Baby who receives the largest number of ballots.

BRIEF BITS OF LOCAL NEWS

If the kind of shoes we sell had been worn by the "boys in blue" on their march to the sea they would have been much happier as their feet would not have been near as sore. These shoes will last through two such marches and cost but 50 cents on the dollar. Becker & Woodruff.

The recommendations we furnish in proof of our good work and superb carriages are the best in town, and from men who have actually used our buggies, and are so pleased will have no other. Our testimonials all come from where we make the goods. Wisconsin Carriage Top Co.

Why should we sell shoes at the advance in price in accordance with leather. We have plenty of shoes. Don't need to buy any now. Bought these before the raise, at 40 cents less than par. Have enough to last us all summer. Can make a nice profit at one-half price, 50 cents on the dollar, so we will continue to keep the good work going. Becker & Woodruff.

All we want you to do is, justice to yourself. We are satisfied in our own mind that we make the best buggies on earth and we want you to be like-wise. If you will come out to our factory and see them in operation you'll never think otherwise. Wisconsin Carriage Top Co.
